

ABOUT HOMEPLATE

HomePlate, Project Place's newest social enterprise, employs homeless individuals to prepare and market a line of quality foods prepared in our new commercial kitchen. As a growing strategy to support nonprofit organizations, small businesses like HomePlate, which incorporate agency mission along with business goals, are developed to create a revenue stream that is not reliant on federal or charitable dollars.

Currently HomePlate provides catering services for lunch, dinner and business meetings. HomePlate also services a pushcart in Downtown Crossing on Summer Street in front of Macy's. The pushcart, which features our award-winning chili among other items, is open Monday through Friday. New in 2008, HomePlate now operates a Gelato Italiano cart in the Spring and Summer Months.

- HomePlate assists Project Place clients in preparing for and transitioning to future employment in the food service industry.

- HomePlate catering provides clients with the opportunity to develop relevant marketing skills, customer service expertise and job training.

- Thank you in advance for the opportunity to serve your catering needs. Your patronage provides our clients with the training necessary to hone their skills and remain competitive in today's job market.
